TWO MORE CASES.

Driven Out.

An Importation of One Victim From Kansas City-A New Flag on Twelfth Street.

The announcement in THE BEE last week that the small pox pest had been removed from the city was based upon the statement of the officials and city physician. Since that time, however, two new cases have been reported. These have been taken care of, and one has been removed to the pest house. The last mentioned case is that of Kansas City. He arrived in Omaha about a week ago and stopped at the Germania house. On Friday he commenced to feel sick, and on Saturday eruptions began to show on his face. He was requested to find another boarding place and had started out to do so when he was met by Dr. Darrow, whose office is near the depot. The docton at once detected evidences of small pox in the man's face and detained him until City Physician Leisenring could be summoned. The man was posted on the outer edge of the sidewalk and remained there until ent type. a wagon was procured and he could be taken away. The report that he station until a conveyance arrived to take him to the pest house. While the fellow evinced unmistakable evidences of small pox, according to the physicians, he was not sufficiently sick

RAILROAD MAGNATES.

The General Superintendent and General Freight Agent of the Central Pacific Pass Through Omaha

In a special car attached to No. 4 on the Union Pacific road Sunday were A. N. Towne, general superintendent of the Central Pacific railroad and J. C. Stubbs, general freight agent of the same road, on their way east. The gentlemen were accomweeks' trip. Mr. Towne was seriously indisposed when they arrived in Omaha, and in the limited time allowed at the depot in this city no opportunity was given for an interview with that gentleman.

Mr. Towne is one of the diguitaties in railroad management, who has risen from the ranks. About ten years ago he was a conductor on the C., B. & Q. railroad and had under his charge as a brakeman, a gentleman now living in this city. The conductor is now drawing a salary of discussion and the matter of salary $25,000 a year, and occupies one of the most elevated railroad positions in the country.

He at once atextreme sorrow of the removal, by tacked the latter, threw her down on the floor and attempted to accomplish a base design. The woman struggled so desperately that despite his exertions he was unable to consummate the outrage and eventually fled from the house. Mr. Brown came in a few moments later, and on learning the facts of the affair at once gave the dial sympathy to the widow and the alarm by sounding a police whistle, which drew quite a crowd to the spot, Officer Frank Kasper being among the number. Kasper secured a description of the villain and set out in search of him, but had not found him up to late hour.
